

Abstract

The diploma thesis „Social status of a teacher (international comparison)“ analyzes and compares the social status of a teacher in the Czech Republic with chosen European countries. The first part is focused on historical development of teachers' profession in the Czech Republic. Next part identifies characteristics of teachers' occupation. The third chapter compares working conditions of Czech teachers in the international comparison with use of statistical data. Problems of teachers' occupation are described in the last part of the thesis.